St. Joan of Arc: Virgin and Soldier

Since my arrival to my beloved Diocese of Palm Beach, I have made no secret about the fact that I do have a favorite saint. Today, on the occasion of her feast day, I am pleased to share some reflections about her extraordinary life and legacy.

Last Saturday, May 30, marked the 595th anniversary of the death of St. Joan of Arc, who was burned at the stake on that day in 1431 in Rouen, France. Her death was the result of a trial marred by numerous injustices, abuses and political compromises, all designed to advance the interests of England, which sought to control France during the latter stages of the so-called Hundred Years' War.

The legitimate heir to the French throne was the Dauphin Charles de Valois, son of King Charles VI, who had died in 1422. By 1429, however, Charles had not yet been crowned king of France because of the English occupation of large portions of the kingdom and the alliance between England and the Duke of Burgundy.

Joan was born in Domrémy, a small village in northeastern France. At the age of 12, she began to experience visions and hear voices, which she later identified as those of St. Michael the Archangel, St. Catherine of Alexandria and St. Margaret of Antioch. She believed that God had entrusted her with a mission: to assist the Dauphin in securing his rightful crown and becoming King Charles VII, thereby helping to restore the unity of France under the banner of the Christian faith.

Through her remarkable courage, perseverance and unwavering trust in God, Joan — still only a teenager — succeeded in convincing the Dauphin to allow her to accompany and inspire French military efforts aimed at liberating territories occupied by the English. These objectives were achieved in dramatic fashion, most notably through the lifting of the Siege of Orléans and the subsequent campaign that opened the way to Reims. There, following centuries of French tradition, Charles VII was solemnly crowned king of France. Throughout the ceremony, Joan stood near the altar of the great cathedral, holding the banner that had accompanied her throughout her mission.

In 1430, Joan was captured by forces allied with the English and sold to them. She was subsequently subjected to an ecclesiastical trial on charges of heresy and for wearing male attire. The proceedings were presided over by Bishop Pierre Cauchon of Beauvais, with the participation of theologians and scholars associated with the University of Paris. The trial was deeply flawed and heavily influenced by political considerations. Joan was ultimately condemned, burned at the stake, and her ashes were cast into the Seine River. Such so-called trial, through which a young girl was repeatedly the subject of cruel forms of violence and violation of her dignity and rights, remains a shameful, repugnant episode in the history of canon law and of the Church.

Twenty-five years later, a new ecclesiastical tribunal, acting under papal authority, reviewed the case and declared the original trial null and void, completely overturning the verdict. Nearly five centuries after her tragic and unjust death, on May 16, 1920, Pope Benedict XV canonized Joan of Arc as a saint of the Catholic Church.

Virgin, mystic, patriot and soldier, St. Joan of Arc remains one of the most extraordinary figures in Christian history. She is honored as the patron saint of France and of military personnel, and her life continues to inspire countless believers with its example of courage, fidelity and complete trust in the will of God.

Here in the Diocese of Palm Beach, we hold St. Joan of Arc in particular affection and esteem. One of our largest and most vibrant parish communities bears her name: the Church of St. Joan of Arc in Boca Raton. This flourishing parish stands as a living tribute to that courageous young saint who, more than five centuries ago, demonstrated to the world that a young person who takes God seriously can truly transform circumstances, influence the course of history and even change the world.

In an age often marked by uncertainty and skepticism, St. Joan continues to remind us that faith, courage and fidelity to God are not matters of age but of conviction and holiness of life.

I especially invite my dear friends, the young people, to look at St. Joan of Arc as a role model: like her, you can also change your country and change the world, if you strongly believe in the power of God present in your heart and act upon it. Be stubborn and unapologetic about it. Do what she did: keep listening to God's voice in you, to God's call to you... and you will achieve wonders. ■

Next weekend we will host our Annual Mission Coop Appeal to benefit The Mission of the Holy Spirit Sisters in India

Fr. Francis Nusi will speak at all Masses on behalf of the missionary work of the Holy Spirit Sisters in India. Their mission has four main concerns:

1. The Holy Spirit Old Age Home – This is the heart of their Mission appeal. In India, close to 18 million elderly people are homeless because of extreme poverty. India also has nearly a quarter of the world's hungry people. Many elderly parents, once respected, are now abandoned by their own families and left to beg on the streets. In 2018, the Holy Spirit Sisters started a home for such destitute and abandoned elderly in a rural parish called Padamati Yaleru, in Andhra Pradesh, South India. With land and an old building donated by the local diocese, they renovated it and today provide 50 residents with shelter, food, clothing, and medical care. More importantly, they restore dignity, love, and respect in the final years of life. But the need is far greater. Many more elderly, especially women, are waiting for a safe place. The Sisters are raising funds to build a larger home, and to provide cots, mattresses, fans, utensils, food, wheelchairs, and a protective fence. They also urgently need a medical transportation vehicle to bring the sick and frail residents to hospitals.

2. Faith Formation of Children – The Sisters also run a free school for children from remote villages, most of whose parents are illiterate and very poor. They also care for orphans, providing them not only education but also the knowledge that they are beloved children of God.

3. Adult Faith Formation – In these rural areas, faith is often the only treasure the poor possess. The Sisters work tirelessly to strengthen the faith of adults through catechesis, retreats, and sacramental life—helping them live with hope, justice, and peace despite material poverty.

4. Women empowerment – Providing sewing machines, buffaloes, sheep and educating them to have small employment skills like running small stationary shops, milk dairy forms and so on.

Please be generous in next weekend's second collection so that these vital missionary works may continue to bring hope, faith, and service to those most in need. Thank you for your contribution.

With deep gratitude to God, the parish family of St. Joan of Arc Church joyfully invites you to celebrate the 65th Anniversary of the Ordination of Fr. Richard Moran, C.Ss.R.

A special Anniversary Mass will be celebrated on Thursday, June 18 at 8:15am
in our Church, followed by breakfast in Mercy Center.

Born in Boston on July 28, 1935, Fr. Moran was ordained a priest of the Redemptorists on June 18, 1961, at the seminary in Esopus, New York. For more than six decades, he has faithfully lived his priestly vocation with humility, compassion, wisdom, and unwavering devotion to Christ and His Church.

For at least 12 years, Fr. Moran has been a beloved presence in our St. Joan of Arc community as an assistant priest. He has celebrated countless Masses with reverence and joy, bringing comfort and inspiration to so many through his thoughtful homilies and gentle pastoral care. He has generously assisted at our parish penance services and faithfully helped hear confessions for our school children and Religious Education students, guiding young hearts with patience and kindness.

In a special way, Fr. Moran's Saturday morning Masses have become a treasured tradition for many parishioners who love and admire him. His deep faith, quiet humility, warm smile, and faithful witness to the Gospel continue to touch the lives of all who know him.

How truly blessed and fortunate we are at St. Joan of Arc to have Fr. Moran serving our parish community. His lifelong dedication to God's people is a beautiful example of faithful priesthood and selfless service.

Kindly RSVP for the breakfast at: info\_church@stjoan.org

May God continue to bless Fr. Moran abundantly for his 65 years of faithful priestly service.

OCIA provides helpful information for anyone interested in learning more about the faith or preparing to receive the sacraments. OCIA involves several stages which together help someone move from an initial motivation to deeper relationship with Jesus and his Church. The high point of this process is the reception of the Sacraments of Initiation (Baptism, Confirmation, and Holy Eucharist) which are ordinarily received by adults at the Easter Vigil Mass. We invite you to respond to this good news and consider becoming Catholic!
